

Honey Bee Weddings

Hello! My name is Misse Daniel and I started Honey Bee Weddings because I adore weddings. My experience in event planning began while working for a non-profit. After successfully coordinating many events, a co-worker asked me to help plan her out of state wedding on a bison ranch in Kansas. After the lovely wedding, I realized that I had found my calling. I launched my own company, Honey Bee Weddings, in 2007. My vision came to life within a few months and has been steadily growing ever since! I have worked with fun, urban brides in Chicago for over five years creating beautiful, luxurious weddings.

My blog has featured everything from the latest wedding trends, trunk shows, photos of weddings I've coordinated and more! I'm most excited to announce that I expanded my blog, creating an overall lifestyle blog. This blog features stories, advice, favorites and inspiration for weddings fashion, travel and design.

I hope you enjoy!
